Context

This document contains the event storming that I did for the “Music Trivia Game” project. I created it to gain an overview of the system's requirements and to communicate to other stakeholders the events planned for the system. This enables them to understand and provide feedback if something is missing.

This is how the event storming looks like. I use Miro tool to create the event storming. It's a board with sticky notes. Here is the link to view the board.
